The President would like to say a few words...

Yesterday, I was fortunate enough to receive the first dose of the Moderna vaccine. A wave of gratitude and relief came over me, as I had unsuccessfully been trying to get an appointment for several weeks. I felt a sense of calm and protection and the beautiful

Hashkivenu prayer came to mind.

Hashkivenu Adonai Eloheinu l'shalom, v'haamidenu shomreinu l'chayim

Shield and shelter us beneath the shadow of your wings

Defend us against enemies, illness, war, famine & sorrow.

For You, God, watch over us and deliver us. For you God, are merciful and gracious.

Guard our going and our coming, to life and peace, evermore.

I realized, too, that all of us are God's partners in the shielding and sheltering. The scientists and doctors who have developed these vaccines, the manufacturers who are making sure we have a safe product in sufficient quantity to fill the enormous need. the nurses and EMT's who administer the shots, the intake supervisors and traffic directors who make sure this procedure is done in an organized and safe manner... all these have a hand in defending us against this illness.

So, too, it is at Temple Beth David. We are grateful to God for sheltering and shielding us during this time of uncertainty. We also have to thank all of our members and friends for guarding the financial well-being of TBD with their generosity, defending us against loneliness by reaching out, to Reb Tuviah for watching over us and delivering us from isolation and fear by sharing his spirituality and joy of everything Judaism has to teach us.

May 2021 bring us from strength to strength together, under the shelter of God's wings, as we partner with our Creator

L'shalom,

Marlene Shaw, President

Messages... From Reb Tuviah.

A few years ago, there was an extremely enlightening survey conducted by the Pew Research Center on American Jews' identity, religious practices and beliefs. It says much about the current state of Judaism in America, and brings to light some of what is working in the organized Jewish community and also some of the challenges we will encounter in the years ahead.

It has always been difficult to estimate the number of Jews in America, since Jewish identity means so many things to different people. Nevertheless, this survey found that there are 6.7 million Jews in America, far more than the 5.2 million found in the previous survey. Another important statistic: while ten years ago 93% of people who were raised Jewish and identify as Jewish said that their religion was Judaism, today only 78% do.

And this is where things get interesting. The term “religion” for those surveyed does not seem to be only about theology, God or religious practice. In fact only 39% of people who said Judaism is their religion are sure that God or a “higher power” exists. Yet, these Jews by religion (not necessarily “religious Jews”) believe that Jews “have a special responsibility to care for other Jews” (72%) and give to Jewish organizations (62%). In a way, religion seems to signify connection to community, values and tradition, more than specifically a connection to God.

But here's the most remarkable number of all: 94%. This is the percentage of American Jews who say they are proud to be Jewish. How can this be? With so many unaffiliated Jews, and a large number with little or no connection to Jewish practices or beliefs, nearly all Jews are proud of their heritage. What has changed over the years are the various ways that people can identify as Jews, and how others relate to the Jewish community. Unlike in the Old Country and even in the early years of Jewish immigration to America, in contemporary America, being Jewish is a choice. People do not need to act or even identify as Jewish. While some stay connected to Jewish life and community, many don't. But nearly all are proud.

I am proud of what we have done, and continue to do, in our community to be a welcoming and diverse “Center for Jewish Life,” and I also know that we are not alone. There is such an incredible growth and flourishing of Jewish life in America, with a new understanding of spirituality, music, education and Yiddishkeit — Jewish culture and life. So, I think we are all doing something right, and we as a community and a people are in just the place we need to be.

What can we learn from this new survey? Stay proud of the way that you are Jewish or connect to Jewish life, and be proud that there are so many ways to be. Beyond belief, practice, politics, theology and everything else that we could be worried about, this is what will keep Judaism strong long into the future.

*L'Shalom,
Reb Tuviah*

NEWS FROM THE TEMPLE BOARD

ROOF REPORT

If you were present at our Congregational meeting last month, you have heard that our insurance requires us to replace our aging roof. This will be completed in the coming month, with repairs to the soffits and painting of the building. Thanks to some forward-thinking members, a Roof Replacement Fund was established a few years ago, which gives us a good head-start in paying for the roof. We have taken a very low interest loan for the balance against our own CD, to minimize the financial impact. Please consider a donation, small or large, to the Roof Fund, so that we will be able to repay ourselves as quickly as possible. For all questions, please contact Marty Reiman, Building and Grounds chair.

IN MEMORIAM

Sadly, we report the recent passing of the following:

Renee Irene Becker, sister of Ken Becker

David Rothbaum, uncle of Jill Pfluke

Lenore Broitman, sister of Millie Silverman

Bill Goldberg, cousin of Linda Weiner

Robert Reiman, son of Marty Reiman

Zochreinu liv'rachah. May their memories be for a blessing.

Surveys - Data Correction

Surveys, data correction, more information - why does the Temple need this information? Are they selling the information to make money?

Or, are they giving it to Big Brother, to spy on me?

No, the Temple is not selling or sharing your information.

It needs the information to better service our members. The survey helps the Temple better understand your background and a could provide a way to save money. For example, if the Temple has a member who is a retired engineer and engineering work is needed by the Temple, who better to review the proposal than our member.

To get your copy of the survey please contact the Temple office at administrator@tbdf.org

The Data Correction, which some may have received, and others will receive soon is a direct result of ShalomCloud. As some of you may have heard the Temple was investigation the use of ShalomCloud to manage member data. ShalomCloud was not good for our Temple, but it did leave the Temple with an electronic database with member information. It seems that not all the information was correct or complete.

For example, it has everyone's birthday as 2020 and there is no occupation information.

So, the Temple has created emails with everyone's database information and is sending it out for review and corrections. Some information is missing and will need to be filled in. The process should only take a few minutes.

The Temple is not sharing or selling your information. It's using the information to help the Temple help you. So, for those that have responded thank you and for the others please consider returning the Survey and Data Correction.

Thank You.

HERE'S ANOTHER WAY YOU CAN GIVE TO TBD!

Do you shop on Amazon? If yes, then we have an easy way to support Temple Beth David with each purchase you make. A few minutes is all it takes to set it up. Just type the word 'smile.' before Amazon.com and you will be brought to the same Amazon site, but on the fundraising side. (<http://smile.amazon.com/>)

The first time you go to the 'Smile' side, you will be asked to choose the organization you wish to support. Search for Temple Beth David and make sure it is in Spring Hill (it's actually listed as Temple Beth David Jewish Center). Select us and then just use Amazon like you always do. Everything is exactly the same but remember, we only get credit if you order from the Smile side. It must say 'smile.amazon.com' every time. You use your existing Amazon.com account on AmazonSmile...everything stays the same. The AmazonSmile Foundation will donate 0.5% of the purchase price from your eligible AmazonSmile purchases directly to Temple Beth David.
